REPORT OF NEW LONDON FIRE DEPARTMENT

The fire department has responded to six alarms, six still alarms for chimney fires and two out of town fires. Only two of the local alarms proved serious, the Goings and Store Block fires. Both of these were handled very efficiently and the loss was comparatively small.

In connection with the Goings fire we would like to emphasize the importance of water holes for protection outside of the hydrant service. These are being built in many of the surrounding towns, and with our pumping apparatus could be made a source of valuable protection at a comparatively small cost in several sections of our community. The Board of Engineers would like to recommend the consideration of this matter in the near future.

The equipment is in good condition but needs some items of replacement, the most important item being more new hose, and we recommend the addition of one and one-half inch hose with small nozzles and adaptors. This has been taken up with the budget committee and an appropriation recommended.

The financial statement appears in the Selectmen's Report.

Respectfully submitted,

A. S. LITTLE,

H. C. STANLEY,

H. E. MESSER,

Board of Engineers.

REPORT OF AUDITOR

I have examined the books and accounts of the Selectmen, Town Treasurer, Town Clerk, Tax Collector, Road Agents, Library Trustees, Cemetery Commissioners, and Trustees of Trust Funds, have compared their several accounts, vouchers and bank statements of funds on deposit, and find these accounts to be in agreement and believe these reports to be a true record of the conduct of the Town Business for the year ending January 31, 1936.

I have also examined the books and accounts of the Treasurer and Commissioners of the New London Water System Precinct and find them correctly cast, and supported by proper vouchers and bank statement of funds on deposit February 1, 1936.

IRA S. LITTLEFIELD, Auditor.

TRACY MEMORIAL BUILDING

Librarian's Report

For the year ending September 30, 1935

The record of the ninth year of the New London library in Tracy Memorial Building is now made for the trustees and the town. It is an account of the growth in the variety and the volume of the library and community work.

Organizations meeting regularly at Tracy Memorial have been the Woman's Club, the Garden Club, the Hospital Aid and the Stamp Club, with occasional meetings of the King's Daughters, Junior King's Daughters, the Civic Association, County 4-H leaders, missionary groups and a considerable number of committee meetings. The high school student body held several assemblies, including Christmas tableaux and moving picture programs in the lower hall. During the year the Woman's Club conducted a bridge party, the Garland Shop staged a fashion show, men and boys played a checker tournament, Farm Bureau groups met, Mrs. Colburn's piano class gave a musicale, Miss Buttrick's primary classes presented a colorful operetta in the garden, the community gave a reception for the teachers of the Colby Hill School, the Stamp Club held a 'two weeks' exhibition, the Garden Club sponsored a two days' flower show, Miss King of the New London Players met dancing groups in the hall or garden, men of the Oxford Group house party held a conference in the assembly hall, Mrs. Tracy gave a tea in honor of her granddaughter Ann Tracy, and the New Hampshire-Vermont Radcliffe Club held its fall meeting at Tracy Memorial Building.

Anniversary Night was observed on October 26, with a program of music, speeches, and colored pictures made and shown by Mrs. Tracy.

In February New London had an opportunity to hear about the Youth Hostel movement from Monroe Smith, director of the American Youth Hostel Association, which opened its first hostel in East Northfield, Mass. A chain of hostels has been operating through this section of New England during the past summer.

Several exhibits were open during the year, including two ten-day exhibitions from the American Federation of Arts. These were Pueblo Indian paintings and a group showing the history of painting. A collection of photographs from West China was loaned by Lucy Holmes Smith. Melanie Martha Muller held an exhibit of her artistic work in oil, water color, crayon, embroidery, wood-carving and metal work. A group of fifty prints reproduced in the American Annual of Photography for 1935 was hung, the exhibitors being from many parts of the world. In September visitors were pleased to find an exhibit of George F. Slade's artistic studies. It was through the kindness of Mr. Slade that the American Annual prints were hung in New London. Color plates of flowers and fruits of American trees and shrubs, painted by Mary Vaux Walcott for the Smithsonian Institution were on display in August.

The Forum, enjoyed by so many members of the community last year, was continued this year with a greater variety of subjects and speakers, and a much larger attendance. These popular and profitable evenings numbered nineteen. In addition to the local speakers, Dr. Pitkin and Dr. Squires, the community had the privilege of hearing Kirby Page, Dr. H. H. Amsden and Rev. J. Graydon Brown in the first group of forum evenings, centered around the subject "Trends in Present Day America". After the holidays members of the faculties of Colby Junior College and the New London High School presented a well received group of lectures. Dr. Mary L. Smallwood and Guy F. Williams gave four science evenings. Ruth Colby, Evelyn Boynton, Ruth Goodwin and Marguerite Hirsch presented four interesting evenings of an English forum. The season concluded with a series of four evenings when the audiences were addressed by Dr. Pitkin and Dr. Squires upon subjects of current interest. After the speaker's remarks discussion was opened by a panel of six persons. Attendance ranged from 50-100, or more, which shows the value of adult education as offered by the Des Moines plan, after which the New London forums have been modeled.

The April 1935 number of The Nation's Schools contained an illustrated article by Dr. Pitkin, describing the 1933-34 forums.

Ernest Johnson, negro singer, entertained a large audience with a fine musical program one evening in March.

The work of the children's room has been of the usual type, offering handwork, games and stories. Good Book Week was the occasion for a display of books at the post office. Riding The Book Trail was the slogan of the week, Earl Pardy's hobby horse was the mascot, and the books displayed offered a wide variety of hobbies. One Saturday afternoon in January Mrs. Lena Newell and daughter, Betty, entertained the children with pictures and stories of far-away Turkey where they have lived. For the Parade of the Holidays, on Hospital Tag Day, the library was asked to arrange a float to represent Good Book Week. Barbara Davis rode a goose as Mother Goose, while Miriam Edmunds, Clara Rodman, Ralph Welch and Harry Cross, Jr., appeared costumed as Old Mother Hubbard, Little Miss Muffett, Simple Simon and Little Boy Blue. The float was completed by a border of colorful book jackets.

Desk exhibits and vestibule bulletins have been of interest to visitors.

Holiday decorations added to the festive spirit of the Christmas and the New Year's season. The customary Christmas program and carol singing were arranged. On New Year's Day the trustees and librarians, assisted by many friends of the library, kept open house. Henry J. Hall wrote a poem for the celebration of the day, calling it "'34 Farewell and Hail '35!", dedicated to the Tracy Memorial Library and its devotees.

Generous gifts of books from Mrs. Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marvin, and the late Mrs. Manrique and other friends have added materially to the library collection. Books purchased and deserving special mention as one looks back over the year are the "Cambridge Modern History" in 13 volumes, "The International Library of Music" in 14 volumes, the Stevenson "Home Book of Quotations", and the three latest volumes of the "Dictionary of American Biography". The library is fortunate to continue to receive several books annually for the International Mind Alcove.

Gifts of autographed books have been received from the following authors: J. Duane Squires, Royce S. Pitkin, Leslie Shear, Hermann Hagedorn, W. J. Henderson and Frederic Baker. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert D. Swift have presented the library with bound files of the New London News, copies of the excellent magazine Fortune, and the N. H. State History of the D. A. R. The Oxford Group presented five recent books relating to the movement. An unknown donor, an alumnus of Yale University, has sent a year's subscription to the quarterly publication, the Yale Review.

Material on library publicity and adult education were loaned by the local library for two exhibits at the Regional Library Meeting at Lake George in September.

The combination book rack and window ventilator, several of which are in use in the reading room, was designed and built by Mr. Robbins. The Library Journal, published in New York and with a world-wide circulation, asked for permission to include it in their Equipment Number a few months ago. The working plans have been borrowed and copied by several libraries of the east and south.

Tracy Memorial Building was pleasantly written up in Thomas Dreier's Sunny Meadows column, following a recent visit to New London, when Mr. Dreier and Robert Updegraff chatted with Mrs. Glassey. Later Mr. Updegraff sent the library a copy of his book "The Sixth Prune".

Lennie M. Messer has served as part-time and vacation assistant at the library for the past year. Barbara Barrow, from the Colby Junior College Library, did some practice work at Tracy Memorial Library last spring, to become acquainted with the books in the town library.

The Neighborhood Library Meeting at Tilton, in June, was attended by the librarian and assistant librarian, who were accompanied by Mrs. Joseph Cutting, trustee, and Miss Julia Todd, formerly on the Colby Junior College Library staff. At the meeting the librarian spoke on "Old and New Children's Books".

Because of the proximity of the library to the Colby Hill School and High School the use of the town library during school hours was possible last year, an advantage appreciated by teachers and students. In this way the many boys and girls who necessarily must use bus conveyance were not deprived of library privileges in the habit-forming years of their lives. The love of books and good reading is an invaluable inheritance to the end of life.

Collections of books have been exchanged several times during the school year for the Elkins School. A number of school room libraries were borrowed from the N. H. Public Library Commission for teachers in the Colby Hill School.

The marked use of the library facilities by the college faculty and student body continues year after year, which shows the cooperation between the town and the college.

The consideration of the statistics compiled for the year shows an increase in the use of the library and the building. Visitors have numbered 22,593 or 1,393 more than last year. The circulation of books, magazines and pictures has totaled 19,080, or 675 over last year. This figures a per capita circulation of 23. Of the entire circulation $23\frac{1}{4}\%$ was non-fiction.

Books added during the year have numbered 692 volumes, of which 245 were gifts.

The library was open 1,513 hours, of which 104 hours were on Sundays, when no books are circulated. If circulation had been continuous in all week-day library hours it would mean that a book left the library desk every 4.4 minutes throughout the year.

Respectfully submitted,

MILDRED J. PEASLEE, Librarian.

REPORT OF THE NEW LONDON HOSPITAL AND NURSING ASSOCIATION

It is with a feeling of satisfaction that the Board of Directors of the New London Hospital see the work of another year completed. Satisfaction in that the year passed has been the most successful in the history of the hospital and also in the efficiency of its nursing staff.

During the past year the directors have held their regular meetings as usual—the first Wednesday of each month—with an occasional special meeting, as business required.

In November, an oil burner was installed in the old furnace. The expense of the new burner was reduced by generous gifts from Mr. Herbert Swift and Colby Junior College. In January, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Pressey gave the hospital thirty feet of land with the condition that it be graded and seeded into lawn. In addition to the land, they gave us a right of way. In May, a new water main was installed, replacing the three-quarter inch pipe, which was nearly filled with rust, with an inch and a half pipe. During the winter it was necessary to purchase a new mangle for the laundry.

Because of the increase in the number of patients, it was necessary to have extra help. Part of the time an extra nurse and later a woman to relieve with the cleaning.

The town of Sutton appropriated three hundred dollars ($300) last year, to be used for patients from Sutton who were unable to pay their own way.

Due to the fact that the hospital ran at capacity all year, it was necessary to discharge patients before they wished to leave, to allow others needing medical or surgical attention to be admitted. Incidentally, a few had to be refused admission.

While more work was accomplished and more money earned than ever before, our treasury does not show it because the money has been put back into the hospital in repairs.

Tag Day, managed by the board, netted ten dollars and twenty-three cents ($10.23). Donation Day, under the direction of the Hospital Aid, brought in the usual goodly supply of canned fruits and vegetables. The Lake Sunapee Country Club also turned over the proceeds of one tournament, one hundred and fifty-six dollars ($156.00), to the hospital.

To all those who have aided the hospital financially or otherwise, we extend our most sincere thanks.

The following figures give an idea of the work accomplished:

Number of patients admitted,	200
Number of births,	39
Number of major operations,	31
Number of minor operations,	44
Number of out-patients,	62
Number of X-ray patients,	83
Total number cared for,	276

HOSPITAL AID ASSOCIATION REPORT

For the Year Ending October 1, 1935

During the year, we have held six afternoon meetings and four all day meetings with an average attendance of eleven. At these meetings, articles for the Tag Day linen table have been made, and mending has been done for the hospital.

Our activities have been similar to those of other years. A successful rummage sale was held in the fall. This was closely followed by the annual membership drive and donation day, both of which met with a generous response. During the winter and spring two bridge parties were held, candy was sold at town meeting and refreshments were served at a local auction.

New curtains were purchased for the hospital and the reception room was redecorated by a special committee.

The officers of the Hospital Aid Association wish to thank all those who have helped make this past year a success.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the New London School Board:

I herewith submit the annual report of the superintendent of schools.

Changes

The Central School opened this year with four new teachers. They have taken hold of their new tasks very well and are carrying on effectively.

Harold A. Truell, Headmaster, is a graduate of New Hampshire University, 1930, with a B. S. degree. He was granted the degree of Ed. M. by the same university in 1935. He has taught for five years.

Dorothy I. Goings, teacher of French and History, is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College, 1934, with a B. A. degree. She attended summer school, 1935, at New Hampshire University.

William G. Stergios, teacher of Science and Mathematics, is a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College, 1931, with a B. S. degree. He was granted the degree of Sc. M. by Brown University in 1933. He has also studied at the Rhode Island College of Education, Providence School of Photography, and State Teachers College, Millersville Pennsylvania.

Alice A. Nickerson, teacher of grades three and four, is a graduate of Plymouth Normal School 1928. She spent one summer at the same school. She has taught for six years.

A few changes were made in the course of study for the high school. A class in General Business Practice is now offered to freshmen. This deals with the everyday transactions with which all people are concerned. It is an extremely valuable course. The course in Psychology and International Relations was dropped, as being rather deep for secondary school pupils. The course in Economic Geography was also omitted. This subject is quite thoroughly covered in the elementary grades. It is planned to give only two years of French since a third year is not needed by most pupils.

These changes make it possible to reduce the number of courses which have to be alternated. There are only four pairs of subjects now given in alternate years: World History and Problems of Modern Cultures; Latin I and Latin II; English III and English IV; Physics and Chemistry. Other classes are offered every year. This is often a great convenience to pupils.

Typewriting is being offered this year for the first time in the New London High School. The ability to typewrite is extremely useful and at times quite valuable. Many of the pupils have availed themselves of the opportunity to acquire this ability. Six machines were purchased and installed in the little room formerly used by the school nurse. (She now uses the office.) This course is entirely optional and no credit is allowed. Each pupil has one period a day. To obtain credit under state regulations each pupil would have to devote two periods a day. Mrs. Myrtle G. Poulin was engaged as teacher on part time (mornings). It is not planned to introduce a commercial course. Typewriting is taught merely as a useful tool subject.

School Work

There are certain facts of common knowledge which every child should learn. These concern the so-called tool subjects of arithmetic, handwriting, spelling, and certain aspects of reading. We intend to have children make a serious and steady attack on these fundamentals even though the work may seem rather hard and laborious.

I wish to express my appreciation of the helpful advice and cooperation of the School Board and teachers.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED W. SMITH,

Superintendent of Schools.
